"You shall observe my statutes and faithfully keep my ordinances, so that you may live on the land securely".

Leviticus 25:18

Dear Brothers,

Prayerful greetings to you all in the sweet name of the Most Sacred Heart of Jesus.

The month of "May" is always special in all aspects for all levels of people. As religious persons, we are invited to celebrate and cherish our precious Vocation and life.

"None of us lives for oneself and no one dies for oneself." These words of St. Paul to Romans are especially powerful as we come to celebrate a great gift of self to the Lord in our consecrated Religious. In answering God's call in such a complete way, through the vowed Life, and through the daily living of those promises, we witness how the Gospel call can be lived to the fullest in joy and hope.

The day of Jubilee is a day of thanks giving to God. We give thanks for the grace of perseverance in Religious vocation. In today's context, we can't think of a person be grateful to his call for a period of 25 and 50 years. But our beloved brothers who are celebrating their Silver and Golden Jubilee of their religious profession are great in their sacrifice and committed service to God and people. Therefore, dear brothers let us rejoice in the love of God that is reflected and made alive in the love of our Jubilerians.

We are also invited to celebrate and thank the Most Sacred Heart of Jesus because; He continues to call courageous men to follow him unconditionally to work in his vineyard. Yes, we have six young men who profess their first vows in our congregation this year. Let us welcome them whole-heartedly to live their call with us and to do His will to the people of Him through our ministries.

Let us wish and appreciate all the Brothers who are celebrating their Birthdays and Feast days in this month.

May I also request you to remember all the brothers who had rested in the Lord in this month in your daily prayers.

PRAYER IN THE AGE OF PANIC

In one of his most important critical exegesis, Jeremy Bentham, an influential English philosopher, defines this age as an age of panic. Everyone, living in this age, is filled with panic, fear and anguish. We are worried but we do not know what we are worried about. We are anxious but we are not aware what we are anxious about. We are disappointed, discouraged, disintegrated and disgruntled for the reasons unknown. To simply elucidate, our mind is occupied with something UNKNOWN. Unknown seems to reign the world, dominate our minds and control our lifestyle. Unknown seems powerful and domineering. Unknown seems all but less do we realise that it is nothing. Unknown has no power with accepting Christ as our saviour and king.

What do we have to worry about when we have Christ as our saviour? Because, the psalmist says that Christ knows our 'going out and coming in', 'our sitting and standing', 'our deep end thought', still He leads us beside 'still waters'. And in Him, our soul is refreshed like that of the cedar leaves.

These promises make us think that if God could really inflict pain on us. One side is the assurance of God's Providence and the other side tests our faith with many social mishaps that happen around us everyday. Serial bomb blasts in New Zealand, suicidal attack in Sri Lanka, storming of a Dalit village, Ponparappi, by the high caste people, make us question if God could allow such thing upon us. The reason is unknown. Everyone who represents Christ, must seriously pray about everyone who suffers loss. Who did all these unthoughtful acts of hatred, nobody knows. In such a time of tribulation is the time where we really need to renew our faith and get closer to God than every before. Jesus does not encourage hatred, caste bias, prejudice, social tensions, societal proclivity, etc. God encourages love, He desires peace.

These trying situations awaken Christ in everyone of us and strongly influences us to send our hearts to the ailing families. Situations may try us, circumstances may befall us, conditions may be unfair, let us remember that these are situations that shall arise Christ in us. This is what, Paul beautifully says, "... whatever you do or say, do it as a representative of Jesus Christ". Do we represent Christ in our words and deeds? Do we discover Christ in every trialing situations and circumstances? Do we inordinately pursue God and allow Him to pursue us? If yes, we take every possible measures to deepen our spiritual escapade, if not, we must take measures to get closer to God, our father.

Living in such a panic state of existence, let us remember that Jesus lives and is among us in every person, we meet. We have to encounter Jesus in every work, we undertake. As we see Jesus and recognise Him in everything we, in all we say, the state of panic becomes the spirituality of pleasure. Pleasure with Christ does not hold any connotative meaning. Pleasure in Christ fills our hearts with peace, desires truth 'in our inward being', develops positivity in everything we do and brings joy in our lives. As Pope Francis says, "Christian life is a joyful life." Panic can be turned into pleasure with prayer, so is our lives filled with His peace.
